The Fun Rolls On and On

What is homecoming at Marine City High School? Homecoming is showing spirit by painting windows and having class competition. It's the cheerleaders doing routines to catch their classmates spirit. The rowdiest part of homecoming is the assembly where each class tries to outdo each other in games. After the assembly is the big game, and finally the highlight everyone's been waiting for - the dance on Saturday.

1. The Marine City High School band performs it's famous "M.C."
2. The Varsity Cheerleader's dance "Jumped" at the Homecoming Assembly.
3. Snoopy shows some Mariner spirit for the Seniors.
4. Queen Jeanine Lyszczyk proudly accepts roses from last year's Queen Lisa Currier and King Jeff Carpenter.

Individuals Come Together

There are many different varieties of students and activities at M.C.H.S. These varieties make the school year a little more enjoyable.

One of the things that the students really take pride in is Spirit Week. During this week we can really be "ourselves." Where else can you really eat without your hands?

It took many types of people and ideas to decorate the gym for the Homecoming Dance. Without these people the dance wouldn't have been such a success.

1. Using their hot air, Kristine Nelson and Melissa Campbell blow up balloons for the Homecoming Dance.
2. The noon hour audience enjoyed the break dancing contest, one of the main events during Homecoming week.
3. Mr. Carlson is the paramedic for the day, helping Tim Rhodes with Matt Beaker looking on.
4. After hearing about the bomb threats, Mr. Bolla decided to wear a hard hat.
5. Jim Dupie got carried away in the pie-eating contest.
6. The Sophomores put up a good fight in the tug-of-war but fell a little short.
7. Kelli McClouth and Bob Ouellette take a break after decorating the gym.

Seniors Create Good Times

"What college are you going to?"
 "Bet ya can't wait for Florida?"
 These are familiar questions among seniors. We look forward to planning the rest of our lives.

Our senior year in high school is the craziest with so much happening and going by so fast.

Soon we will look back on graduation day and be relieved we don't have to go through the hassel of "so you have your homework done?"

1. Seniors take time out on toga day to pose for a picture.
2. Cindy Kongabel and Jim Dupuie "pigout" at the Homecoming assembly.

Underclassmen Roll With Spirit

Entering M.C.H.S. as a sophomore is much easier than we expected. By having classes with upperclassmen we felt right at home. Our spirit being tested the very first week of school at the pep assembly we showed the upperclassmen we were ready for an exciting year.

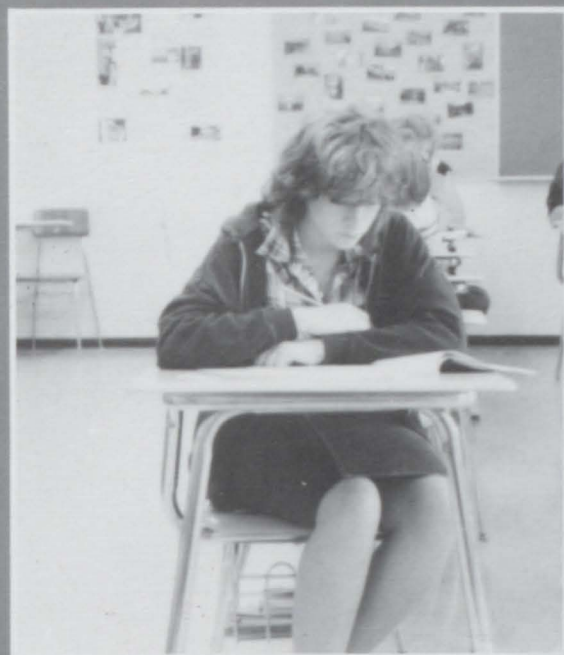

Coming back for our second year, we juniors determined to lead the school spirit. It started out with the victory of the Homecoming games, and from that point on we knew our spirit would last throughout the year.

Spirit Week 1984. Mariners were as enthusiastic as ever, students and teachers alike. From Monday morning until the victorious Homecoming game on Friday, the spirit never died down. The only damper on the festivities was that Homecoming King Gary Mabry was unable to attend due to knee surgery following a football injury from the week before.

The game, the assembly, and each individual day was unique, and will be cherished memories for all who were involved.

1984 - A Year to Remember

Nineteen eighty four was an eventful year in many ways. The presidential election was held this year, but this election was different.

This was the first year the United States ever had a negro and a woman running for office.

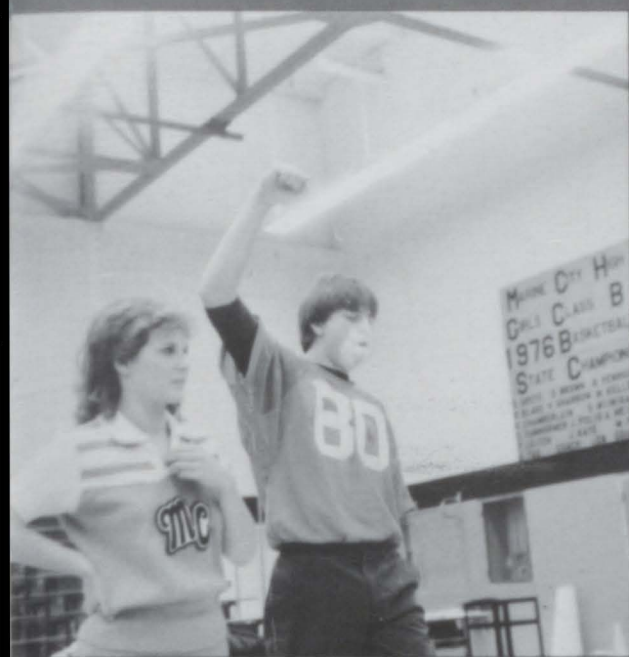

This was also the year of the summer olympics, where the United States won a record number of gold medals. Michigan will remember this year for a long time because, this was the year the Detroit Tigers won the World Series by defeating the San Diego Padres.

Homecoming Sparks Excitement

The Educators

The Educators are a very important part of the lives of each student at M.C.H.S.

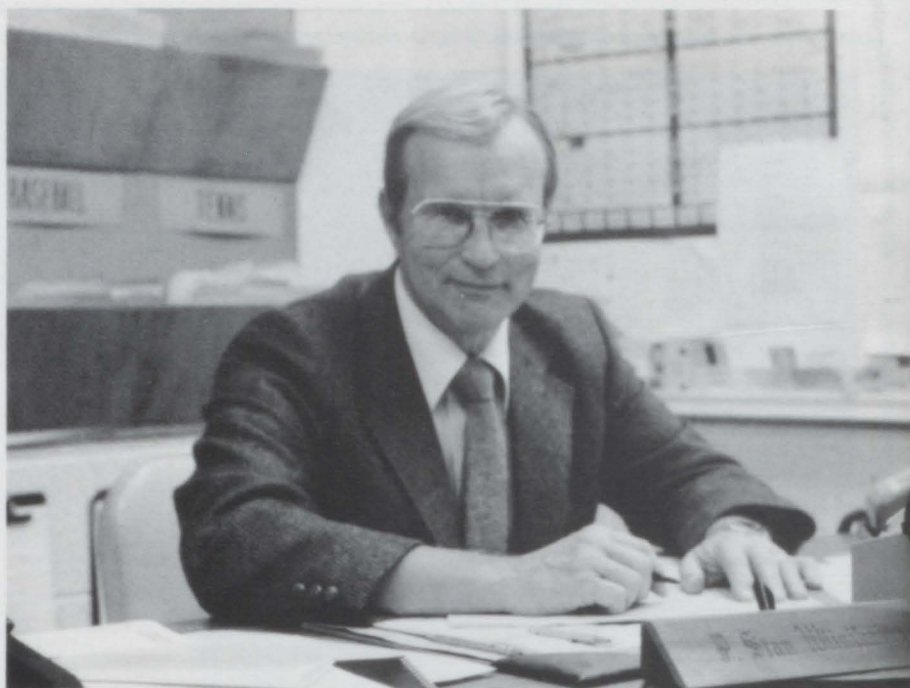

Most people think that the teachers only concern is to teach. This is only a beginning, they must advise, coach, and care enough to try and help each student make something of themselves.

Many teachers go an extra step in letting the good times roll and get students involved in some sort of group or activity. Thanks to this special group of individuals, this year we have sports, B.O.E.C., a computer club, a log staff, a yearbook class, a ski club, cheerleading, and advisors for each class, student government, and national honor society.

Every student sees each teacher as a unique person. With this comes the respect each educator deserves, sometimes it isn't always shown, but the respect is always there.

Office Gets The Job Done ^{1.}

Running a high school office is not always easy, but with the qualified people we have, daily procedures usually run quite smoothly. To keep Mr. Bolla's schedule running, Mrs. Joyner, keeps track of scheduling and student correspondence. Mrs. Westrick orders all school supplies and is the bookkeeper in the office. Mrs. Faucher keeps the students on their toes by being in charge of attendance and detentions. Speaking of detentions, Mr. Wiinakainen has the sometimes rough job of tracking down students and giving them time after school. Mr. Bolla is the main man in charge of keeping the staff straight. It seems that there is a first class office personnel at M.C.H.S.

Business Helps Guide the Way

Business courses play an important role for everyone in careers after high school. One of the best ways to complete a career is to be connected with business departments.

Mrs. Webb instructs students in accounting and business law. Guiding students to apply their skills in the office block class, is Mrs. Warner.

Helping students in the library and instructing the computer club is Mrs. Green.

Marine City High School has an excellent Math department that helps students in numbers and equations. They assist students with problems that will be helpful in college math classes.

Helping to solve these problems are; Mr. Gunderson, Mrs. Drews, Mrs. Burmann, and Mrs. Raupp. Mrs. Raupp teaches basic algebra in the junior high. Besides instructing students to use computers in the programming class, Mrs. Burmann also teaches the new applied geometry class. The Activities

One way of letting the good times roll is Activities. These special events add an extra bit of enthusiasm to an otherwise routine day.

The Homecoming starts off the year with much excitement and eagerness to win. All week long every class tries to outdo the others during Spirit Week. Then comes the final competition at the assembly, where each class does their best to receive the most points. However, the fun doesn't stop there, to top the week off there is a Homecoming game and dance the following night. The Homecoming is always a memorable time for everyone.

There are also many different clubs and groups at M.C.H.S. The cheerleaders do a very good job at entertaining the audience as assemblies and games. When it comes to important decisions about school, that's when the Student Government steps in.

Getting involved is what being a Mariner is all about.

Another group, which worked very hard enlightening the half-time shows is the Flag Corp. This group practiced on their own time and has had a very successful season.

The Christmas spirit flowed throughout Marine City High School this year. Despite the extremely cold weather, the annual parade was a success. The cheerleaders passed out candy to the children standing along the street.

Everyone got a little anxious for Christmas Eve when they saw Santa Claus ride through town waving to the spectators and wishing them a Merry Christmas. The snow court was introduced at the bandstand and then everyone began to sing carols.

Vocabulary words and verbs require the most studying. Both Spanish and French offer a four year course which starts in the ninth grade. The classes are not all work though. They have food days where students bring in their own foreign food to share.

This year several of the French students travelled to France over Easter vacation to participate in the culture of the French. They not only had the opportunity to explore museums and cities but also were lucky enough to put their language skills to practical use.

BOEC and Log Interests Soar

The Mariner Log has improved a great deal since last year. The 1985 editors attended a journalism workshop at Ball State University over the summer and acquired many new ideas for layout, design, and article content. One of the most fun and entertaining classes at MCHS is Play Production, taught by Miss Gustavison. It is a class where students can be themselves or anyone else they want to be. They do such things as perform TV commercials, impersonate famous people, pantomime, act in the school play. The play this year was called "The Ghost Who Came to Dinner" which was about a lady who is doomed unless she prevents at least one man from marrying the wrong type of girl because men are usually attracted to the very women who aren't right for them. Everyone did well and made the characters very believable.

On top of organizing the play the class was also in charge of the annual talent show. The show takes a lot of time and preparation but is always one of the high points of the school year.

Skill Put To Good Use

The Skill Center is a great way to start off a promising career. It offers a wide range of occupational fields, from secretarial and computer programming to welding.

There are now presently ninety two students who are enrolled in the Skill Center from M.C.H.S. The courses are taught by St. Clair County employers.

The students that go to the Skill Center either have classes in the morning or afternoon. Going to Skill Center is just like a real job. Students have to punch in and punch out on a time card. It is a credited class and anyone who is enrolled in a St. Clair County High School is eligible to attend.

The Competitors

A very essential part of letting the good times roll throughout the year is Athletics. Not only do the team members get involved in the game but the fans do also which adds an extra bit of excitement to each game.

The definition of a Mariner is a person who navigates or assists in navigating a ship; sailor. The same meaning holds true to each individual on a Mariner team. Each player must assist the other teammates in navigating their plays and strategies. Just as a sailor guides his ship to safety, each Mariner player leads his team to victory.

Many hard hours of practice and pride in the school and in themselves go into making a successful team and season. Even when a game is lost each competitor says to himself, "next time we'll try better and harder." Never giving up is a true Mariner team motto.

The 1984 Football team got off to a slow start losing the first two games 14-13 to Lutheran East and 27-0 to Marysville. They won five in a row beating St. Clair 13-10 in overtime. The next game was not so close when the Mariners beat Richmond 35-7, with Steve Gunderson throwing two long passes to Eric Gunderson.

Marine City then went against Roseville Brablic and won 36-14. The Mariners won the game but lost a big part of the defense when Gary Mabry injured his knee. The Mariners then faced Algonac for the Homecoming and won 34-6.

The Mariners clinched second place by beating Cros-Lex 25-20 in a very exciting game. Jerry Grieb was taken out early because of an injury. The Mariners defense held Cros-Lex so Steve Gunderson could direct a pass to Randy Jones that put the Mariners on the one yard line, Gunderson went over for 6 points. Brock Haehnle added a 2 point conversion from a pass from Gunderson.

The Mariners ended with a 6-3 record defeating Port Huron Northern 21-12 in the final game of the season.

JV Grows With Season

The 1984-85 Girls JV Basketball team showed very good depth. They had a lot of potential to be a very good team, but they did lose a couple of games with last second shots from the other team. The team started out slow but gained a lot of background as the year went on. They achieved much experience from close games at the end of the year. This type of playing gave the young players a chance to get involved in games that could equal varsity experience. Although the team ended the season with a record of 2-14 they did show improvement in many areas on the court. Highlights of the season were defeating Roseville Brablec 36-24 and Capac 32-31.

Broken Season

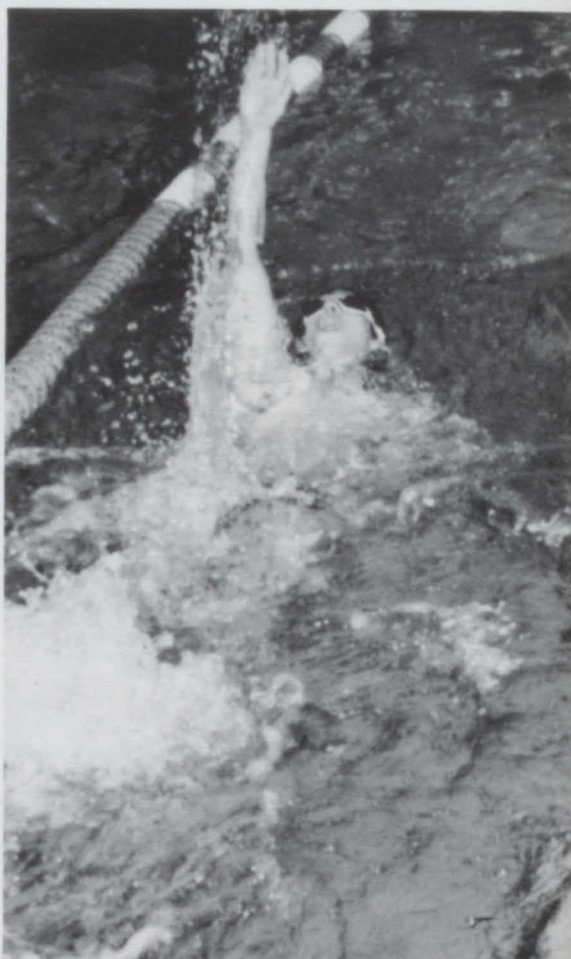

Swimmers Start Over

"Push it, Push it" was what Coach Durant told each swimmer before every race. Even though the Mariners pushed it as hard as they could, the strain of an all new coaching staff and a pool that broke down every other week took it's toll as the Mariners went winless in '84.

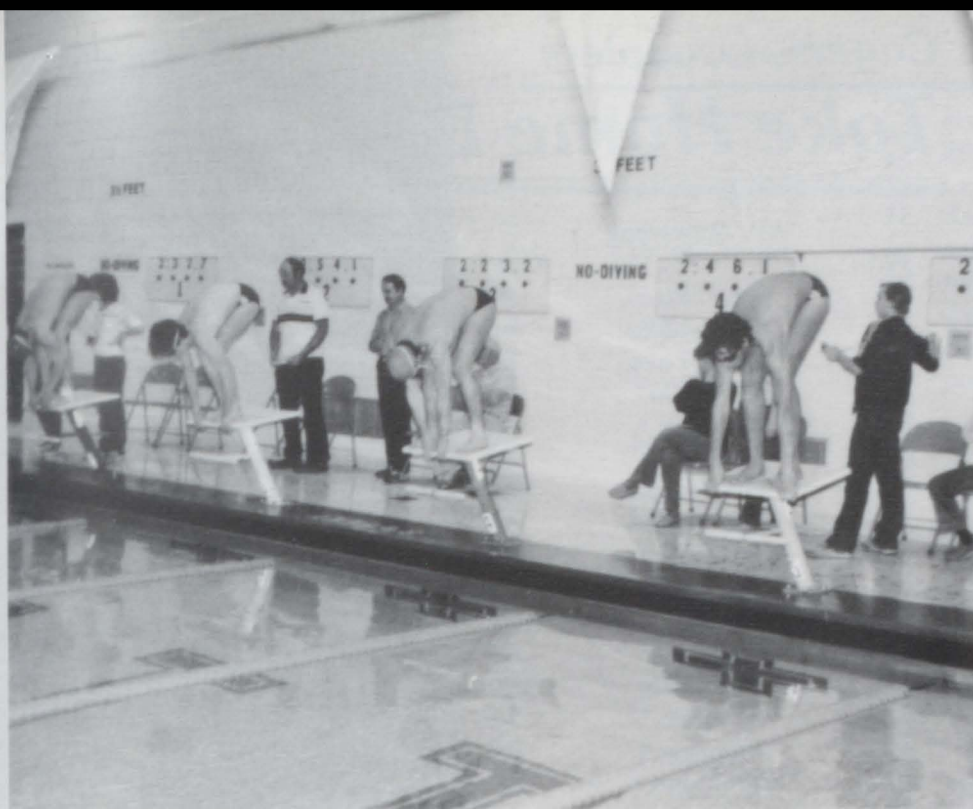

Despite the discouraging record the team followed the lead of senior co-captains Brian Filo and Mike Kammer in breaking nine school records. The Diving team consisted of three new divers: James Furstenau, Howard LaCroix and Senior Diving Captain Jim Miller. The Divers performed better than expected diving stronger at each meet until LaCroix finally broke the school record with promise of doing even better next year.

The Individuals

Most of the population of M.C.H.S. consists of the Individuals.

When they start school in September, each student must be prepared to accept many new experiences, and be ready to make decisions.

Some of the new experiences are different kinds of activities and groups to be involved in. The Homecoming festivities are always a little confusing at first to newcomers, but after awhile they are right in there competing with the other classes. Another very special attraction to the Sophomore and Junior classes is attending their first Prom.

For this group now is the time to start thinking of future plans. Whatever their interest, they are sure to find activities to join.

The Individuals are a very essential part of letting the good times roll through High School.

Although none of us would admit it, we Sophomores were pretty excited about being a part of the Mariner High School action.

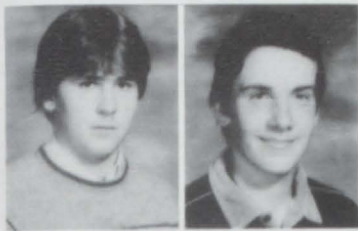

On the first day we wandered trying to match up the numbers of the classrooms, to the ones on our schedules. Every hour we looked cautiously into our next class to see if it was the right one!

We got acquainted with old friends, and met many new ones. Finally we got to order our class rings, which added a special excitement to the first few months of school. After we got them it made us feel even more a part of the High School scene.

"Is my finger really that big?" asks Tim McConnell.

Spirit Week came, and we were a little slow getting started, but once we got going all the Seniors and Juniors could do was sit back and watch.

By the time the assembly came we were all pretty fired up. We Sophomores took control and did our best in participating in the assembly. Even though the Juniors won the spirit jug, we sure gave them a run for their money ... We won Spirit Week!!!

This year during Spirit Week we Juniors fought hard to win the #1 spot on the thermometer, but the sophomores turned out to be more competition than we expected. They turned on the spirit and slipped past us in the end to win Spirit Week. At the assembly, we Juniors were announced as second place in window competition, but the best was yet to come. The class of '86 was named the rowdiest class of the school, during the assembly we won the spirit jug. As the week came to an end, the dance took place. Everyone had a great time.

This year our Junior class elected these people to the position of class officers: President Ken Dubay, Vice President Anne Reichle, Secretary Cathy Simons, and Treasurer Darin Brooks.

What qualities make a class full of fun? Togetherness and friendship are very important qualities, and the class of 1986 is full of them. With all the great people making up our class, good times mean just being together.

A big part of our past year was taking a lot of tests. Every time we turned around there was the ACT, PSAT, SAT, and other tests to prepare for. Each of us helping one another helped us get through them all.

As we look ahead to graduation it is both scary, and exciting. It seems so far away, but before we know it they will call our names to receive our diplomas. We will always remember our high school years, especially Florida, but our togetherness and friendship will make those years more memorable, meaningful, and fun.

With a touch of a hand or a smile ...
A friend's calm reassurance
Makes everything brighter, Makes life always seem more worthwhile -
A friend shares so many bright moments of laughter
At even the tiniest thing ...
A friend is a cherished and precious possession
Who knows all our hopes and our fears ...
And someone to treasure
deep down in our hearts
With a closeness that grows through the years!

Jeff Hedges and Doug Herbert discuss who's advanced Math equation is correct.

The Graduates

For the graduating class of 1985 this is the last step in letting the good times roll for three years of learning and growth in high school. This fast moving year is filled with many advantages, decisions, and celebrations.

The state of being more advanced than another or others in age, position, or length of service is seniority. With this seniority comes many advantages. One of them is during spring break when the whole senior class goes to Florida. This advantage is certainly worth waiting for.

Roll on to a Great Homecoming

Out of all the events of our Senior year, it never fails that Homecoming shows up on the list of favorites. As we return to school in the fall, Homecoming seems to be the event we all look forward to the most. We always have fun painting the class windows, electing the court members and getting our dates for the dance. As the day approaches our Senior excitement and rowdiness increases.

The highlight of the assembly is the crowning of the King, Queen and other Senior court members. Following the coronation, we Seniors showed our spirit during the games. Even though the Juniors won the majority of events, the class of '85 put up a good effort that will always be remembered.

Seniors Spark Spirit

Spirit week for 1984 was a total success as far as we seniors were concerned.

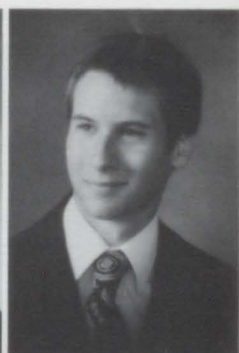

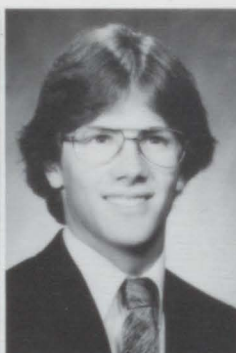

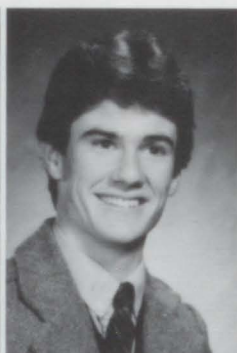

The M.C.H.S. faculty and students really showed their spirit this year during spirit week by participating in all the events.

We seniors let our talent take over in the window painting to outdo the underclassmen and earn first place. We also won B-Bop day.

By the time the assembly came around we were all ready to cheer for our classmates during the games. There was a warm feeling running through all of us as we realized this was our last spirit week at M.C.H.S. - one that will always be remembered.

Before we knew it - Daytona Beach was only a day away. That was something we had all been waiting for since our sophomore year. We all tried to save as much money as we could to make the trip even better.

There were meetings, payments, signing up for buses or talking to your travel agent if your flying. We all spent lots of money on clothes for Florida, crash diets and most importantly fake I.D.'s.

We stayed at the Plaza Hotel. We knew the fun was just beginning.

Laying in the sun and partying to no end was "our" motto!!! We visited Disney World, Epcot Center and last but not least Wet-n-Wild.

We'll never forget Daytona Beach, Florida 1985 - and it'll never forget us.

Selections Signal Good Taste

One of the many decisions Seniors have to make during the course of the year is the selection of their class motto, class colors, class flower and class song. Before the actual voting took place, the class officers asked for the senior class nominations for each category.

The results were:

Motto - "Do not follow where the path may lead. Go instead where there is no path and leave a trail."

Class Flower - White Rose

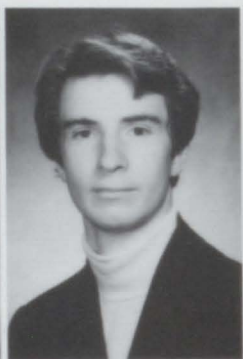

Class Song - "Stairway to Heaven"

Graduation Day, when we were Sophomores we could hardly imagine what it would feel like to be a Senior. Now that we are Seniors, we are just starting to realize what graduation really means to all of us.

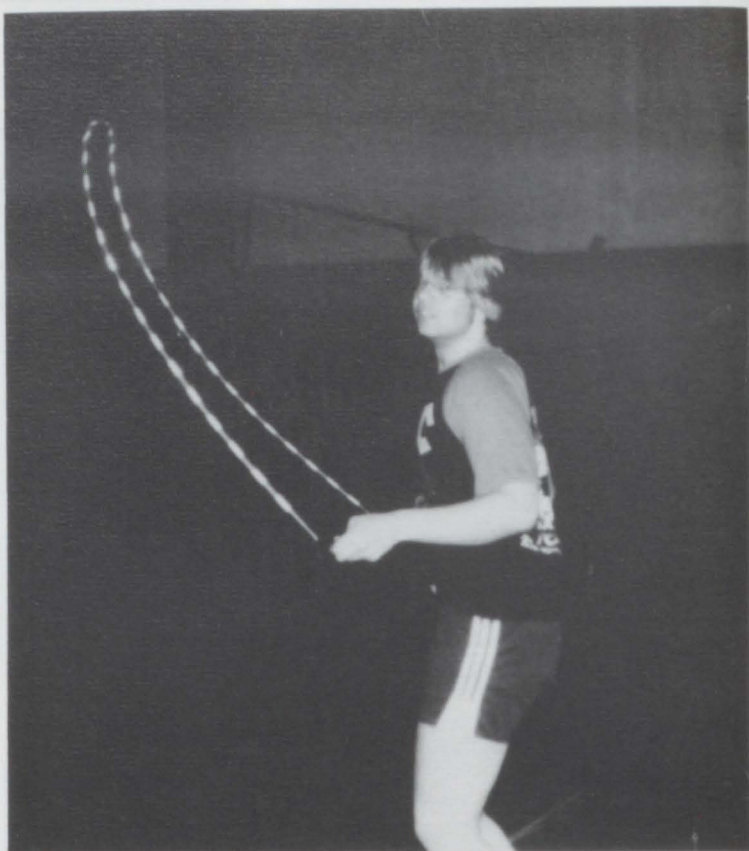

It means saying goodbye to old memories and old friends. Its time to go out in the world and make new memories and new friends.

It also means its time to decide what we should do with our lives, whether or not we should go to college, or if we should choose a career in computers or engineering.

As our Senior year draws to a close, we must always remember what we learned and achieved at Marine City High School.

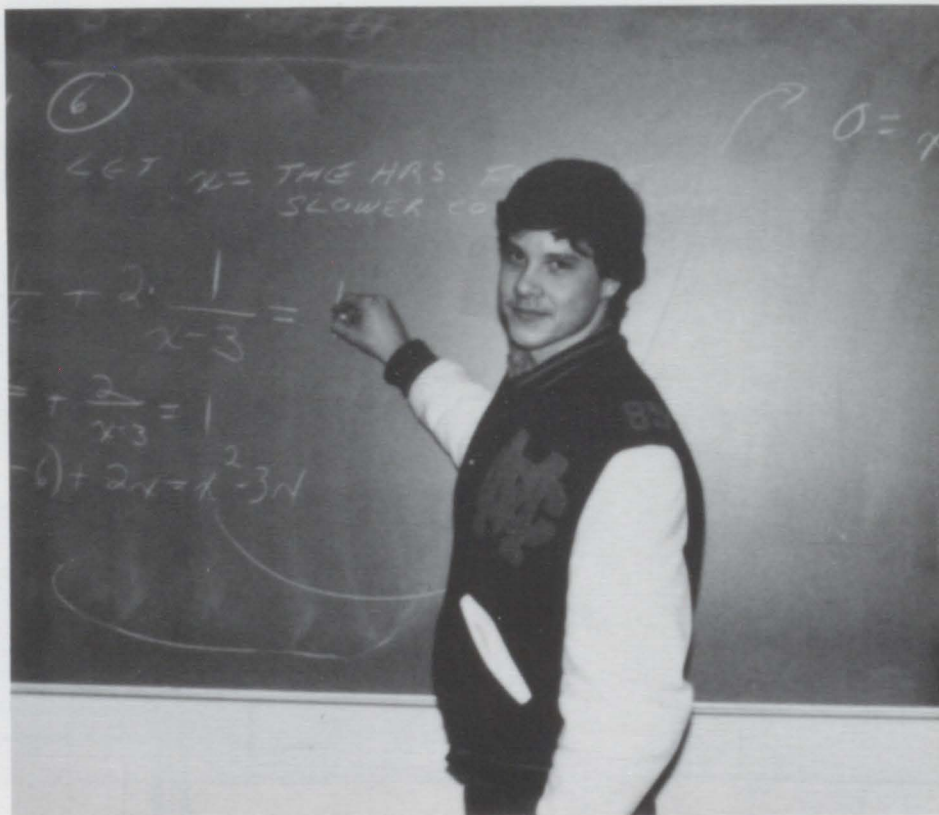

Lisa Slankster tries to slip out of class before the bell rings.

John Turke stays a jump ahead of the crowd.

Becoming a Senior not only means looking ahead to the future, but also a time to pause and take a look back. As we looked back on our Senior year it seemed to be filled with times to remember. At the beginning of the year we showed our true Senior Spirit at homecoming assembly. As a class we prepared for our commencement day by getting fit for our gowns and ordering announcements.

During the different seasons we cheered our Mariner teams on with the greatest of pride. Yet we couldn't help but feel a little sad in remembering it would be the last time. The class of '85 remembers it with memories of yesterday and exciting new thoughts of tomorrow. To some, graduation is the end of their school years. To others it means one more step toward the goals they wish to achieve in life.

Senioritis Sets In

Every year there comes a time when Seniors seem to change. This time begins about April when they return from Florida. They begin to fall apart at the seams experiencing a great deal of laziness, boredom, and loss of memory. What happens as a result of this crisis? An occasional french fry or two or a cherry pie flies across the cafeteria, or hundreds of gold balls begin wandering through the halls. On top of all this, grades begin falling due to the lack of interest in school work.

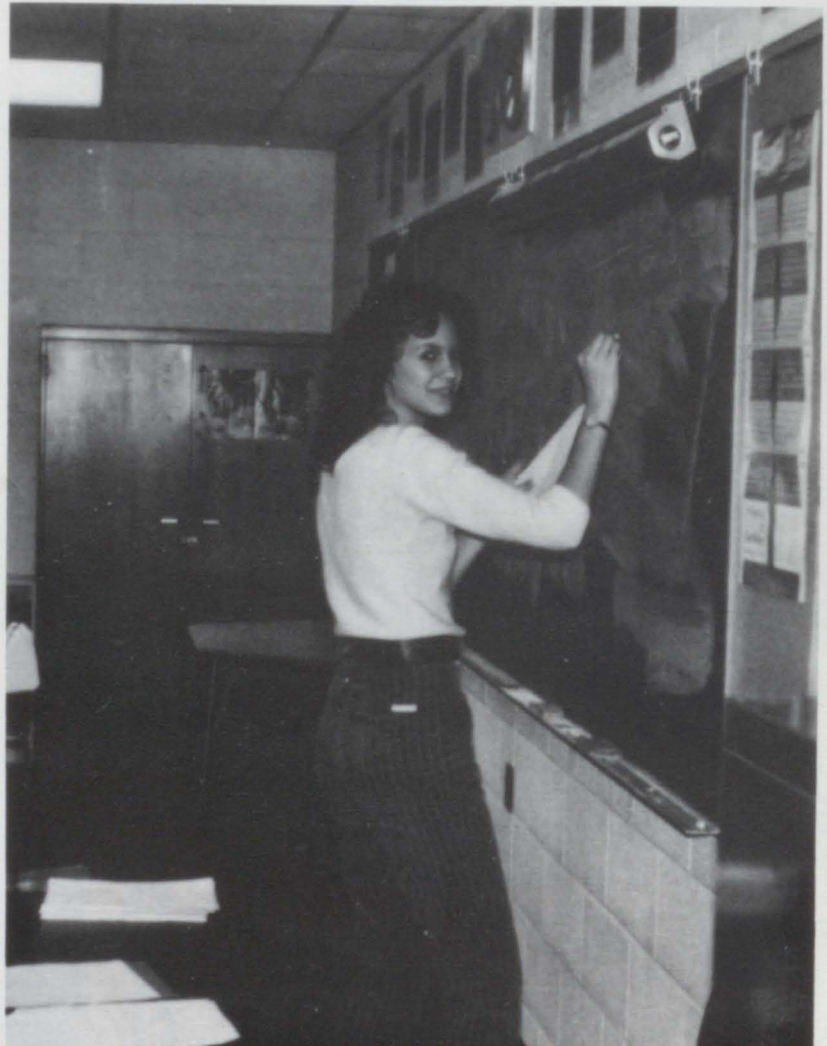

As far as anyone can see there is only one thing that can cure this disease, it is called GRADUATION. And on June 18, 1985, the symptoms affecting the members of this class disappeared and they returned to normal once again.

The Contributors

The Contributors of Marine City and it's surrounding areas do a very good job at helping let the good times roll by supporting everything from athletics to producing a yearbook.

The business owners also help out many students on an individual basis by providing them with part-time jobs. These jobs help those who are planning to go on to college save a little extra money to help pay for it. They also provide spending money, which it seems that every high school student needs.

Many of the local businesses belong to a group called the Merchants Association, which deals with the development of Marine City. Two things that this association helped to develop were more suitable parking and the nautical theme.

Memories of "85"

2.

3.

Some good and some bad memories rolled through the 1984-85 school year. Sports events, ski club and Homecoming are just a few of the things that will be remembered.

New styles in clothes, president is re-elected, senior trip to Florida and Prince and the Revolution, are some of the events that were a part of the M.C.H.S. 1984-85 school year.

1. The Mariner crowd shows their support for the football team.
2. Marc Rhodes, Darin Brooks and Joe Bieszczad get caught by surprise during a basketball game.
3. Relaxing during American History is Bob Macleod and Todd Goulette's favorite part of class.
4. Steve Murray, Steve Beckett and Shelly Glied wait patiently for the skill center bus.
5. Yvette Voigt practices making perfect french fries.
6. Looking a little confused about where things should go is Mike Heisler.
